OBSERVATIONS.

How long is the old fish-market to remain an eyesore to the community and a menace to public health?

The people would like to know what the plans of the government are in relation to the iron and glass shed which is supposed to have been erected for a new fish market.

A correspondent hits the BULLETIN'S views exactly when he advocates that the tires bill should not be retroactive. The principle of the measure is all right, but, unless time is given for compliance with the provisions, serious damage would be done to private interests.

A hall of the size of the Y. M. C. A. ought to have more ample means of exit than that one has. It must have struck people who were in the jam, going out after the concert last night, what a serious thing a panic from a fire alarm would be in an assembly filling that large hall. The narrow steps at the turn near the head of the stairs would add to the danger of such an occurrence. Anyway, it is not pleasant to be in jams like that here mentioned.

OUR TAMMANY.

There is talk of organizing a cosmopolitan annexation club, if the American League do not abolish its national limitations. If annexation is not a dead issue, despite its being the national policy by the constitution, some people think that United Statesers by birth, naturalization or pretension should not segregate themselves, in a political body, from their prospective fellow-citizens. It might also be argued that under the ruling of the State Department at Washington, there are few if any members of the League who can now claim to be American citizens. An impression exists that the League has departed from the objects of its organization and become a mere political machine. Secret political societies ought to be prohibited by law, but the Government dare not prohibit anything that "the boys" desire to maintain. Its suspicious persons deportation act almost caused a revolution, because many of the Government's creators and preservers suspected it was intended to over-throw them.

THE POLICE COURT.

Compliments Pass Between Fashionable Dames on Emma Street.

Mrs. Schiefer and Mrs. Liaka exchanged compliments on Emma street a few days ago over a bird cage about which the former called the latter a skunk, a pig and a negro woman. She had a good deal of satisfaction out of it, but Judge Perry thought she had better put up a dollar fine and $3.50 costs before she went home. The sixteen fan-tan players arrested the night before last will be tried on Tuesday, as will also Ah Pan for obstructing justice. C. Grace was found not guilty of selling liquor without a license after a trial lasting nearly all yesterday morning.

At this morning's session the opium cases against Ah Sui and Ah See were nolle pross'd.

Mary Morris pleaded guilty to assaulting and battering Mrs. Mary Marks, but as she did not do it very hard she got off with a reprimand.

Ah Kam and Ah Yau had a short scence with His Honor about a little opium which came into their possession. Ah Kam had sense enough to plead not guilty and the prosecution immediately let him off without further prosecution. Ah Yau said he was guilty and it cost him just $51.

Ogata, charged with running a hotel without a license, was not prosecuted and Iomoto and a lot of Chinese charged with the same offense will be heard on July 2d.

Liwai got two months across the reef for stealing clothes from a line in the rear of a wash-house.

Timely Topics

June 26, 1895.

INTO the soft, warm light of the drawing-room the heavy odors from the conservatory floated and filled the place as with a fog of flowers.

Beneath the crystal chandelier, which shone in the mellow light as a suspended rainbow in an atmosphere of gold, stood a fair, pale girl, erect, imperious, beautiful.

Shrinking away into the shadows was the object of it. It was a young man in a red waistcoat, with other things to match.

He had told her of his love for her, of his devotion to her; of his worship, of the dear desire of his heart to make her his own, and in the midst of it she stopped him suddenly.

"Enough," she exclaimed. "Enough! I will not listen to another word."

"Hear me out," he pleaded. "Hear me out."

"Never," she laughed, scornfully, "but I will take great pleasure in seeing you out," and the shadows closed around that shrinking youth like the deadly arms of the octopus.

Slowly and sadly he mounted his wheel and rode forth into the cold, cold world of this city. In spite of our Paradise-of-the-Pacific climate it had been a cold day for him and he could not get rid of a crushed-strawberry-and-ice-cream feeling in the region of his heart which would not away.

Passing the Hawaiian Hardware Company's store the brilliant scintillations from the electric globes on the Monarch bicycle in their window attracted his attention and like an electric flash the thought entered his mind, "I wonder if she is mad because I never asked her to take a bicycle ride with me. I'll do it if it takes my last dollar." Without a second's hesitation he walked into the store and ordered a Monarch ladies' wheel sent to her house, first tying his card to it.

That same evening he received a polite note asking him to call again. He went and two minutes sufficed to make him the happiest man in Honolulu, the cause of the whole trouble being that the young lady suspected him of taking other girls out bicycle riding and was jealous accordingly. There will be another wedding in Honolulu in a few weeks.

While we are on the subject of girls and wheels we will state that we are prepared to furnish bicycles enough, for every engaged girl in Honolulu or even for every girl who wants to be engaged.

Ladies and misses are cordially invited to call at the store and examine the Monarch wheels, for which we are sole agents for the Hawaiian Islands.
